SAYS TIMES CHANGE

Hutchinson, Kan., Speaker Declares
Vote Seems to Have Imbued
Women With New Life.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., May 17.—Declaring that times had changed since club women were referred to as "old hens" by a certain type of politicians, Mrs. R. R. Bittman of Independence, Kan., president of the Kansas Federation of Women's clubs, last night declared the club women since obtaining the vote apparently had been endowed with youth since the same politicians now always referred to them as "the girls." Her address came as a number on the annual convention of the Kansas Federation of Women's clubs.

The women's club of today is a weapon of both defense and offense, she declared, inasmuch as its forces are allied against the enemies of healthy, happy living conditions and for that purpose the mental and moral development of her children. She is the same woman at heart as the cave woman, defending her young, but the mother in her embraces is a shield which would protect the woman's club since the establishment of the state federation.

Personal Mention

Miss Elizabeth Madison left last evening to join her mother, Mrs. Bessie Mafer, in Burdett, Mo., where the latter was summoned recently by the illness of a relative.

Messages received yesterday from Mrs. F. J. Evans, who was recently summoned to Los Angeles to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. F. M. Morgan, were to the effect that Mrs. Morgan passed away Monday. Mrs. Evans will remain for a while longer to be near her father, who is quite feeble.

Miss Melba Stratton of Ukiah, Kan., is the guest of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gillette and Mrs. Sylvia Nation and was a member of the charming coterie of girls assisting at the fashionable tea given Wednesday afternoon by Measdale James M. Gillette and Carl Gillette in the home of the former.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hull have returned from their home at Wellsville, Mo., where they have been three weeks. The Hull family expect to leave soon for Wellsville to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Davis have returned from Oklahoma City where they have spent several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Peterson, who are residing at 1112 South Base avenue, expect to change their residence quite soon and will be located in the new Greut apartments.

SILVER BOOM IS EXPECTED

Silver and Copper Mining Industries in Mexico Preparing for Revival.

MEXICO CITY, May 17.—A great boom in the silver and copper mining industries in Mexico is expected immediately, it was learned here today. This expectation is based on two developments:

1. The rise in the price of silver.
2. Exhaustion of the wartime stocks of copper.

Silver mines in the states of Durango, Guanajuato and Hidalgo, which were paralyzed by price depression, are being prepared for resumption on a big scale now that it is possible to mine silver at a profit. It is believed the demand from London and New York alone will be sufficient to keep up prices.

Copper mines at Cananea, Nacozari and El Bolson, owned, respectively, by American, English and French capital, will open up June 1. The Cananea and Nacozari mines are in the state of Durango; those at El Bolson are in Lower California.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Forex silver on the New York market sold today around 72 1-4 cents an ounce, a new high record for the year.

Lesson No. 51.

REVIEW.

Detection Circuit for the Vacuum Tube.

The vacuum tube as a detector exercises the important function of rectifying oscillations of radio frequency which have been intercepted by the antenna and inductively or conductively impressed upon the secondary circuit. The grid element and plate, causes a fluctuation of the plate current and consequent variation of the telephone current which results in the reception of audible signals.

Electric Wave Generation.
Electric waves may be divided into two classes: continuous or undamped waves of constant amplitude, and discontinuous or damped waves whose oscillations have decreasing amplitude. The wave length may be expressed as the distance between the points of two successive waves where the energy is at a maximum or a minimum.

Spark Discharge.

A spark discharge in the closed oscillatory circuit of a spark transmitter sets up radio-frequency oscillations of decreasing amplitude. When the condenser alternately charges and discharges across the spark gap, the resultant group of oscillations is damped by the extraction of energy. A minimum number of 23 complete oscillations is necessary for a single spark discharge in order to conform to the government regulations.

The Radiation of Electric Waves.

Electric waves radiated in all directions from the aerial of the transmitting station are intercepted by receiving antennae but continue with practically undiminished energy. Powerful transmitting stations used in trans-oceanic communications have aerials so designed and geographically located to the strongest waves in the direction of their receiving stations with which communication is carried on.

The Coil Aerial.

The coil aerial has valuable directional properties both in the transmission and reception of electric waves. It may be used as a direction finder and is capable of receiving signals from long distances when connected to very sensitive amplifiers.

Static Electricity.

The interference of static charges of electricity with sensitive receiving sets is often so pronounced during the warm summer months as to entirely prevent the reception of radio signals. Small static charges accumulate into a gigantic charge which breaks down the gap between cloud and ground and results in the lightning flash with its millions of volts potential.

Entertaining Passengers by Radio.

Several hundred Cornell students on their way to New York City received a musical program by wireless while riding on a special train of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. The radio apparatus was mounted in one of the cars and while speeding over the rails received the special musical sent out by the General Electric Co. from Schenectady. This is believed to be the first instance of utilizing the radio waves from a broadcasting station for the entertainment of passengers.

VALENTINO BACK HOME

Screen Star Ready to Fight Court Action Against Latest Marriage.

Their Honeymoon Is Halted.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 17.—Rudolph Valentino, screen idol, was back in Los Angeles today from Palm Springs to combat any legal proceedings that might arise from his marriage last Saturday at Mexcala, Mexico, to Winifred Hudnut, better known as Natacha Rambova, in view of the fact that he has been granted only an interlocutory decree and not a final divorce from his former wife, Jean Asker. Since their wedding, Valentino and his young bride, who is the daughter of a wealthy New York perfumer, have been stopping at Palm Springs on their honeymoon, but hurried back to Los Angeles upon hearing there was some question as to their union.

Simultaneously, Douglas Gecard, former director of Valentino and a wedding witness, arrived in Los Angeles and told the details of the ceremony. According to Gecard, Valentino arrived in Mexico last Thursday with a letter of introduction from the local Mexican consul to the mayor of Mexcala, and that it took two days to clear up legal and technical details.

GETTING RID OF BOARDERS

Farmers Adjured to Stress Milk and Butter Producers.

Special to The World.

BARTLESVILLE, May 17.—Get rid of your hay eaters and raise milk and butter producers," is the burden of the talks that have been given to the farmers of Washington county this week on the profit to be made in the dairying business by C.

W. Radway of the A. & M. college at Stillwater.

Mr. Radway delivered addresses this week to the farmers at Wann, Post Oak schoolhouse and Trussett church and all the meetings were well attended, members of the Realtors association and the Business Men's association of Bartlesville also being present. Mr. Radway told the farmers that Washington county offers exceptional facilities for the dairying industry but he advised them to make a practice of raising forage crops that would provide an all the year round feed for their dairy cattle. He also urged strongly that a systematic effort be made to build up the quality of the herds by procuring registered bulls.

DESTROYS HIS SODA POP

Sanitary Inspector Condemns Product of Bartlesville Dealer.

BARTLESVILLE, May 17.—S. W. Kniely, city sanitary inspector, swooped down upon a grocery and confectionery store known as "Mac's Place," and conducted by the McDonald Supply company on East Third street near the county courthouse, and destroyed a quantity of soda pop which was being offered for sale.

The officer declared that McDonald was not complying with the law in that he manufactured the soft drink without first obtaining a state license as required by law. The beverage was destroyed after the sanitary officer had brought the matter to the attention of County Attorney H. C. Felt, who advised him to take action and to issue a warning to the grocery proprietors to cease manufacturing.
